The Highgate Business Centre is an existing Victorian warehouse building in Kentish Town, London NW5.

The property is being comprehensively refurbished and upgraded on a phased floor by floor basis to provide bright and attractive studio office and light industrial accommodation.

The new internal spaces are simply and economically fitted out with new uplighting, exposed services and robust industrial finishes. New multi-pane double glazed steel windows compliment the existing industrial windows and retain the historical character of the external elevations.

The new accommodation has proved popular with many local architectural and design firms and contributes significantly to the vitality and regeneration of the surrounding area.
